Islamic Heritage Architecture C.A. Brebbia, A. Martinez Boquera, 2016-12-28 This book contains papers presented at the 1st International Conference on Islamic Heritage Architecture and Art The papers deal with the design of many types of buildings in Islamic countries and the influence that these structural forms have had in non Islamic countries Coverage will also include construction materials There is much to learn from past experiences to arrive at solutions that are environmentally sound and sustainable in the long term As conventional energy resources become scarce the Islamic design heritage can offer invaluable lessons on how to deal with difficult and extreme environments in an efficient manner Traditional architecture and urban environment in most Islamic countries is now being eroded by overemphasis on global type of architecture and city planning Consequently many regions are losing their identity The Conference will aim to review these developments in the light of what the classical Islamic urban designs and architectures have to offer modern society There will also be coverage of conservation techniques appropriate to the materials and structural forms used The papers in this book cover such topics as Architectural conservation Architectural heritage Architecture in Malaysia and Indonesia Climate adaptability Conservation and restoration Historical aspects Houses and gardens Islamic art and globalisation Mosques and minarets Ottoman Istanbul Schools The African Coast The Islamic urban environment The Mediterranean region The use of light Vernacular architecture Wood and wooden roofs The contents will be of interest to all researchers practitioners and government employees actively involved with Islamic Heritage Architecture Journal of the Society of Chemical Industry Society of Chemical Industry (Great Britain),1899 Includes list of members 1882 1902 and proceedings of the annual meetings and various supplements The Structural Engineer ,2001 Piety and Politics in Qajar Iran Nahid Massoumeh Assemi,2024-03-21 The Takkiyya Mu avin al Mulk is a building complex in the city of Kermanshah in western Iran dedicated to the annual commemoration of the martyrdom of Husayn ibn Ali at the Battle of Karbala in 680 an event of seminal significance to Shi i Islam Private takkiyyas built by social elites were a phenomenon of the Qajar period with their construction motivated by a political quest for legitimacy This book examines the intersection of art and architecture popular piety and the politics of legitimation Through an examination of the building and its decorative programme it addresses issues of patronage Shi i iconography and popular religious practices during the early 20th century in Iran It further argues for the role of takkiyyas in creation of a sense of community and group identity the formative stage of the emergent idea of nationhood at the time amongst those who frequented them "The" Athenaeum ,1851 Military Media Review ,1981 Transition from Foraging to Farming in Northeast China Weiming Jia,2007 The main aim of this book is to demonstrate that based on a practicable method of tool complex analysis and using as a framework the model of transition from foraging to farming such as the availability model can be tested with common archaeological data Through case studies in northeast China this book has made a contribution to this aim and has provided a useful method to study prehistoric economy relying on archaeological discoveries The theoretical approach in this book has suggested that the economic style chosen by prehistoric societies is retrievable from the archaeological record without direct reference of faunal and floral data This makes this method particularly useful for regions and periods where no faunal and floral information available This method for retrieving economic information is also without direct reference to ethnographic analogy This study shows the potential significance of the use of common archaeological data without directly using highly technological equipment and a large amount of scientific analysis This makes this method particularly valuable for the research in most archaeological records in China and elsewhere when there are few modern technologies methodologies and research conditions available Chapter 1 outlines the major purpose of this book and background of current archaeological studies in northeast China in relation to transition from foraging to farming Chapter 2 reviews the studies in transition to farming worldwide including transition research in the west China and northeast China A summary of Chinese archaeology in its method and theory is also included Chapter 3 establishes the author's methodological framework in studies of transition to farming in northeast China including the explanation of tool complex analysis interpretation of the results of this analysis and establishing a baseline based on studies in the transition to farming in central China Chapter 4 reconstructs Palaeo environment in northeast China involving sea level temperature and precipitation and vegetation changes during the Holocene in northeast China Mainly based on pollen data including present pollen reference studies of the summer monsoon this reconstruction provides an outline of environmental changes in northeast China Chapters 5 to 8 are case studies Based on the archaeological records in the four regions the Liao River region Liaodong peninsula Song Nen plain and Changbaishan mountains in northeast China they use the author's methodological frame work to analyse the process of transition to farming in each region to establish the patterns of transition in northeast China Chapter 9 synthetically analyses the process and model of the transition to farming in northeast China including the analysis of transition patterns the relationship between environmental changes technological level and agricultural transition in northeast China Some tentative explanations of the causes of the transition to farming are also included Chapter 10 extends some theoretical discussions including discussion of the relationship between environment and economic styles in different transition models The potential usage of tool complex analysis in other regions is discussed in this Chapter and followed by some suggestions in the future studies such as transition to animal farming transition within one archaeological culture and studies on individual species of plants and animals Also the suggestion of further studies needed such as using the same method of tool complex analysis comparing to economies in present ethnic groups
