Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies Ken Albala, 2013-05-07 Over the past decade there has been a remarkable flowering of interest in food and nutrition both within the popular media and in academia. Scholars are increasingly using foodways, food systems and eating habits as a new unit of analysis within their own disciplines and students are rushing into classes and formal degree programs focused on food. Introduced by the editor and including original articles by over thirty leading food scholars from around the world, the Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies offers students, scholars and all those interested in food-related research a one-stop, easy-to-use reference guide. Each article includes a brief history of food research within a discipline or on a particular topic, a discussion of research methodologies and ideological or theoretical positions, resources for research including archives, grants and fellowship opportunities as well as suggestions for further study. Each entry also explains the logistics of succeeding as a student and professional in food studies. This clear, direct Handbook will appeal to those hoping to start a career in academic food studies as well as those hoping to shift their research to a food-related project. Strongly interdisciplinary, this work will be of interest to students and scholars throughout the social sciences and humanities.

Crossing Back Marianna De Marco Torgovnick, 2021-09-14 From the award-winning author of Crossing Ocean Parkway, a personal memoir about adjusting to loss through books, meditation and the process of memory itself. Marianna De Marco Torgovnick experienced the rupture of two of her life's most intimate relations when her mother and brother died in close proximity. Mourning rocked her life, but it also led to the solace and insight offered by classic books and the practice of meditation. Her resulting journey into the past imagines a viable future and raises questions acute for Italian Americans but pertinent to everyone about the nature of memory and the meanings of home at a time like ours, marked by cultural disruption and wartime Crossing Back Books Family and Memory without Pain presents a personal perspective on death mourning loss and renewal A sequel to her award winning and much anthologized Crossing Ocean Parkway Crossing Back is about close familial ties and personal loss written after the death of her remaining birth family who had always been there and now were not After their loss she entered a spiritual and psychological state of transcendental homelessness the feeling of being truly at home nowhere of being spiritually adrift In a grand act of symbolic reenactment she found herself moving apartments repeatedly not realizing she did so subconsciously to keep busy to stave off grief By reading and studying great books she opened up to mourning a process she constitutionally resisted as somehow shameful Over time she discovered that a third death colored and prolonged her feelings of grief her first child s death in infancy which in the course of a happier lifetime had never been adequately acknowledged Her new losses led her finally to take stock of her son s death too Reading and meditating followed by writing became daily her healing rituals A warm and intimate user s guide to books family and memory in the mourning process the end point being memory without pain Crossing Back is a wide ranging memoir about growing older and learning to ride the waves of change Lively and conversational Torgovnick is masterful at tracking the moment to moment day to day challenges of sudden or protracted grief and the ways in which the mind and the body seem to search for and sometimes find solutions

Food and the Self Isabelle de Solier, 2013-10-10 We often hear that selves are no longer formed through producing material things at work but by consuming them in leisure leading to meaningless modern lives This important book reveals the cultural shift to be more complex demonstrating how people in postindustrial societies strive to form meaningful and moral selves through both the consumption and production of material culture in leisure Focusing on the material culture of food the book explores these theoretical questions through an ethnography of those individuals for whom food is central to their self foodies It examines what foodies do and why they do it through an in depth study of their lived experiences The book uncovers how food offers a means of shaping the self not as a consumer but as an amateur who engages in both the production and consumption of material culture and adopts a professional approach which reveals the new moralities of productive leisure in self formation The chapters examine a variety of practices from fine dining and shopping to cooking and blogging and include rare data on how people use media such as cookbooks food television and digital food media in their everyday life This book is ideal for students scholars and anyone interested in the meaning of food in modern life

Food Television and Otherness in the Age of Globalization Casey Ryan Kelly, 2017-02-09 Food Television and Otherness in the Age of Globalization examines the growing popularity of food and travel television and its implications for how we understand the relationship between food place and identity Attending to programs such as Bizarre Foods Bizarre Foods America The Pioneer Woman Diners Drive Ins and Dives Man vs Food and No Reservations Casey Ryan Kelly critically examines the emerging rhetoric of culinary television attending to how American audiences are invited to understand the cultural and economic significance of global foodways This book shows how food television exoticizes foreign cultures erases global poverty and contributes to myths of American exceptionalism It takes television seriously as a site for the reproduction of cultural and economic mythology where representations of food and consumption become the commonsense of cultural difference and economic success

The Nightmare Before Christmas Filipa Antunes,Brittany Eldridge,Rebecca Williams,2025-02-20 This edited collection considers The Nightmare Before Christmas as a milestone in animation and film history considering the different layers of meaning and history of the film from pre production to the present day The Nightmare Before Christmas Henry Selick 1993 has become a key point of reference in negotiations of genre and the boundaries between mainstream and cult cultures both on screen and in the spaces of fandom and in original and retrospective reception contexts where it often becomes tangled with nostalgia Contributors to this edited collection consider the film as a cultural object with significant impact on animation representations of family and horror and fandom and subcultures Covering topics including representations of fairy tales Christmas media cultural appropriation family horror merchandise theme parks and food this work explores the film s ongoing cultural impact

Nourishing Life Arianna Huhn,2020-09-10 In this accessible ethnography of a small town in northern Mozambique everyday cultural knowledge and behaviors about food cooking and eating reveal the deeply human pursuit of a nourishing life This emerges less through the consumption of specific nutrients than it does in the affective experience of alimentation in contexts that support vitality compassion and generative relations Embedded within central themes in the study of Africa south of the Sahara the volume combines insights from philosophy and food studies to find textured layers of meaning in a seemingly simple cuisine

The Food Network Recipe Emily L. Newman,Emily Witsell,2021-04-21 When the Television Food Network launched in 1993 its programming was conceived as educational it would teach people how to cook well with side trips into the economics of food and healthy living Today however the network is primarily known for splashy celebrity chefs and spirited competition shows These new essays explore how the Food Network came to be known for consistently providing comforting programming that offers an escape from reality where the storyline is just as important as the food that is being created It dissects some of the biggest personalities that emerged from the Food Network itself such as Guy Fieri and offers a critical examination of a variety of chefs feminisms and the complicated nature of success Some writers posit that the Food Network is creating an engaging important dialogue about modes of instruction and education and others analyze how the Food Network presents locality and place through the sharing of food culture with the viewing public This book will bring together these threads as it explores the rise development and unique adaptability of the Food Network

Estok,S. Susan Deborah,Rayson K. Alex,2022-06-22 Anthropocene Ecologies of Food provides a detailed exploration of cross cultural aspects of food production culinary practices and their ecological underpinning in culture The authors draw connections between humans and the entire process of global food production focusing on the broad implications these processes have within the geographical and cultural context of India Each chapter analyzes and critiques existing agricultural food practices and representations of aspects of food through various media such as film literature and new media as they relate to global issues generally and Indian contexts specifically correcting the omission of analyses focused on the Global South in virtually all of the work that has been done on Anthropocene ecologies of food This unique volume employs an ecocritical framework that connects food with the land in physical and virtual communities and the book as a whole interrogates the meanings and implications of the Anthropocene itself Food and World Culture Linda S. Watts, Kelty Clark-Mahoney, 2022-08-23 This book uses food as a lens through which to explore important matters of society and culture In exploring why and how people eat around the globe the text focuses on issues of health conflict struggle contest inequality and power Whether because of its necessity pleasure or ubiquity the world of food and its lore proves endlessly fascinating to most people The story of food is a narrative filled with both human striving and human suffering However many of today s diners are only dimly aware of the human price exacted for that comforting distance from the lived world realities of food justice struggles With attention to food issues ranging from local farming practices to global supply chains this book examines how food s history and geography remain inextricably linked to sociopolitical experiences of trauma connected with globalization such as colonization conquest enslavement and oppression The main text is structured alphabetically around a set of 70 ingredients from almonds to yeast Each ingredient s story is accompanied by recipes Along with the food profiles the encyclopedia features sidebars These are short discussions of topics of interest related to food including automats diners victory gardens and food at world s fairs This project also brings a social justice perspective to its content weighing debates concerning food access equity insecurity and politics Interpreting Food at Museums and Historic Sites Michelle Moon, 2015-11-19 Food is such a friendly topic that it s often thought of as a hook for engaging visitors a familiar way into other topics or a sensory element to round out a living history interpretation But it s more than just a hook it s a topic all its own with its own history and its own uncertain future deserving of a central place in historic interpretation With audiences more interested in food than ever before and new research in food studies bringing interdisciplinary approaches to this complicated but compelling subject museums and historic sites have an opportunity to draw new audiences and infuse new meaning into their food presentations You ll find A comprehensive thematic framework of key concepts that will help you contextualize food history interpretations A concise evaluative review of the historiography of food interpretation Case studies featuring the expression of these themes in the real world of museum interpretation and Best practices for interpreting food Interpreting Food at Museums and Historic Sites offers a framework for understanding the big ideas in food history suggesting best practices for linking objects exhibits and demonstrations with the larger story of change in food production and consumption over the past two centuries a story in which your visitors can see themselves and explore their own relationships to food This book can help you develop food interpretation with depth and significance making relevant connections to contemporary issues and visitor interests Research Methods for Anthropological Studies of Food and Nutrition Janet Chrzan, John Brett, 2017-02-01 The dramatic increase in all things food in popular and academic fields during the last two decades has generated a diverse and dynamic set of approaches for understanding the complex relationships and interactions that determine how people eat and how diet affects culture These volumes offer a comprehensive reference for students and established scholars interested in food and nutrition research in

Nutritional and Biological Anthropology Archaeology Socio Cultural and Linguistic Anthropology Food Studies and Applied Public Health Ethnic American Literatures and Critical Race Narratology Alexa Weik von Mossner, Marijana Mikić, Mario Grill, 2022-06-16

Ethnic American Literatures and Critical Race Narratology explores the relationship between narrative race and ethnicity in the United States Situated at the intersection of post classical narratology and context oriented approaches in race ethnic and cultural studies the contributions to this edited volume interrogate the complex and varied ways in which ethnic American authors use narrative form to engage readers in issues related to race and ethnicity along with other important identity markers such as class religion gender and sexuality Importantly the book also explores how paying attention to the formal features of ethnic American literatures changes our understanding of narrative theory and how narrative theories can help us to think about author functions and race The international and diverse group of contributors includes top scholars in narrative theory and in race and ethnic studies and the texts they analyze concern a wide variety of topics from the representation of time and space to the narration of trauma and other deeply emotional memories to the importance of literary paratexts genre structures and author functions Food, Religion and

Communities in Early Modern Europe Christopher Kissane, 2018-06-14 Using a three part structure focused on the major historical subjects of the Inquisition the Reformation and witchcraft Christopher Kissane examines the relationship between food and religion in early modern Europe Food Religion and Communities in Early Modern Europe employs three key case studies in Castile Zurich and Shetland to explore what food can reveal about the wider social and cultural history of early modern communities undergoing religious upheaval Issues of identity gender cultural symbolism and community relations are analysed in a number of different contexts The book also surveys the place of food in history and argues the need for historians not only to think more about food but also with food in order to gain novel insights into historical issues This is an important study for food historians and anyone seeking to understand the significant issues and events in early modern Europe from a fresh perspective The Construction of Eating Disorders Alison Fixsen, 2024-12-16

This groundbreaking book draws on original research to critically examine the construction of eating disorders and disordered eating in an analysis that encompasses psychiatry cultural representations and the politics of eating disorders Challenging the idea that disordered eating is an individual marginal issue the book explores how disordered eating and the classification of eating disorders EDs reflect deep societal disruptions regulatory practices and sometimes violent attempts to manage non conformity It demonstrates the impact of biomedical psychiatric legal pharmaceutical technical and consumer groups as well as that of the fast food fashion media and social media industries Novel areas explored include eating disorders and the justice system eating disorders and food landscapes lifestyle eating disorders and the role of capitalism and colonialism in the emerging biopolitics of food and bodies Centrally it reveals how these forces shape the ways that eating disorders are perceived spoken of written about and managed within institutions and wider society The book will appeal to scholars and students of mental health psychology sociology gender studies criminology food justice and anyone interested in the future of our health Food Culture Janet Chrzan, John Brett, 2017-02-01 This volume offers a comprehensive guide to methods used in the sociocultural linguistic and historical research of food use This volume is unique in offering food related research methods from multiple academic disciplines and includes methods that bridge disciplines to provide a thorough review of best practices In each chapter a case study from the author s own work is to illustrate why the methods were adopted in that particular case along with abundant additional resources to further develop and explore the methods
