

2. Suppose that in a large population, the distribution of heights of 1000 randomly chosen individuals is bell-shaped. The histogram below shows the sample distribution of heights of 100 individuals randomly chosen from the sample, and the sample mean is greater than the sample mean of the population. What value is the sample standard deviation of the sample distribution of heights of the 1000 individuals in the population?

- ☐ standard deviation = 10.000
- ☐ mean = standard deviation = 10.000
- ☐ standard deviation = 10.000
- ☐ standard deviation = 10.000
- ☒ standard deviation = 10.000

✓ Answer

This question refers to the following sampling distribution: calculate the sampling variability of the mean: the standard deviation is  $\sqrt{100} = 10.000$ .

The quantity resulting in the sample mean by calculating the standard error of the mean  $\sqrt{100} = 10.000$  is the value of the standard deviation of the sampling distribution of the mean. Therefore, the sample standard deviation is  $10.000$ .

3. Which of the following is false?

- ☐ Standard error is a standard deviation of a sample mean that is the standard deviation of the sample.
- ☐ As the sample size increases, the variability of the sampling distribution decreases.
- ☒ Standard error measures the variability in means of samples of the same size taken from the same population.
- ☐ Standard error is the standard deviation of the sample mean of the sample.

✗ Answer

This question refers to the following sampling distribution: calculate the sampling variability of the mean: the standard deviation is  $\sqrt{100} = 10.000$ .

This is the definition of the standard error.
