Iconophages Jérémie Koering, 2024-08-20 An unprecedented art historical account of practices of image ingestion from ancient Egypt to the twentieth century Eating and drinking images may seem like an anomalous notion but since antiquity in the European and Mediterranean worlds people have swallowed down frescoes icons engravings eucharistic hosts stamped with images heraldic wafers marzipan figures and other sculpted dishes Either specifically made for human consumption or diverted from their original purpose so as to be ingested these figured artifacts have been not only gazed upon but also incorporated taken into the body as solids or liquids How can we explain such behavior Why take an image into one's own body devouring it at the risk of destroying it consuming rather than contemplating it wisely from a distance What structures of the imagination underlie and justify these desires for incorporation What are the visual configurations offered up to the mouth and what are their effects What therapeutic religious symbolic and social functions can we attribute to these forms of relations with icons These are a few of the questions raised in this investigation into iconophagy Iconophages aims to retrace for the first time the history of iconophagy Jérémie Koering examines this unexplored facet of the history of images through an interdisciplinary approach that ranges across art history cultural and material history anthropology philosophy and the history of the body and the senses He analyzes the human investment in terms of culture and imagination at stake in this seemingly paradoxical way of experiencing images Beyond the hidden knowledge unearthed here these pages bring to light a new way of understanding images just as they illuminate the occasionally outlandish relations we maintain with them

Curating Art Janet Marstine, Oscar Ho Hing Kay, 2021-12-30 Curating Art provides insight into some of the most socially and politically impactful curating of historical and contemporary art since the late 1990s It offers up a museological framework for understanding watershed developments of curating in art museums Representing the plurality of theory and practice around the expanded field of relational curating the book focuses on curating that prioritises the quality of relationships between people and objects between institutions and people and among people It has wide international breadth with particularly strong representation in East and Southeast Asia including four papers never before translated into English This Asian cluster illuminates the globalisation of the field and challenges dichotomies of East and West while acknowledging distinctions within specific but often transnational cultural spheres The compelling philosophical perspectives and case studies included within Curating Art will be of interest to students and researchers studying curating exhibition development and art museums The book will also inspire current and emerging curators to pose challenging but important questions about their own practice and the relationships that this work sustains

Futurism and the Poetry of Materiality Dalila Colucci, 2024-06-17 This monograph offers the first ever full length analysis of the most irreverent book of Italian Futurism L'anguria lirica printed in 1934 on tin metal sheets with design and poetic text by Tullio d'Albisola and illustrations by Bruno Munari This study which features the unabridged reproduction of the pages of the tin book accompanied by the first English translation of the poem aims to disentangle the complex relationship between text and image in this total artwork It shows how the endless series of material transformations at its core of woman into food of love into desecrating religion of man into machine of poetry into matter fostered a radical change in poetry writing thus breaking away from a stagnant lyrical past A Cultural History of the Avant-Garde in the Nordic Countries

Since 1975 , 2022-08-15 The Cultural History of the Avant Garde in the Nordic Countries Since 1975 is the final volume of the four volume series of cultural histories of the avant garde movements in the Nordic countries This volume carries the avant garde discussion forward to present day avant gardes challenged by the globalisation of the entertainment industries and new interactive media such as the internet The avant garde can now be considered a tradition that has been made more widely available through the opening of archives electronic documentation and new research which has spurred both re enactments revisions and continuations of historical avant garde practices while new cultural contexts political technological and ecological conditions have called for new strategies Beyond Given Knowledge Harri Veivo, Jean-Pierre

Montier, Françoise Nicol, David Ayers, Benedikt Hjartarson, Sascha Bru, 2017-12-18 The effort to go beyond given knowledge in different domains artistic scientific political metaphysical is a characteristic driving force in modernism and the avant gardes Since the late 19th century artists and writers have frequently investigated their medium and its limits pursued political and religious aims and explored hitherto unknown physical social and conceptual spaces often in ways that combine these forms of critical inquiry into one and provoke further theoretical and methodological innovations The fifth volume of the EAM series casts light on the history and actuality of investigations quests and explorations in the European avant garde and modernism from the late 19th century to the present day The authors seek to answer questions such as How have modernism and the avant garde appropriated scientific knowledge religious dogmas and social conventions pursuing their investigation beyond the limits of given knowledge and conceptions How have modernism and avant garde created new conceptual models or representations where other discourses have allegedly failed In what ways do practises of investigation quest or exploration shape artistic work or the formal and thematic structures of artworks
