Strategic Participatory Communication and Development Anne Gregory,Gregoria Arum Yudarwati,2024-11-15 There has been a recent shift in the nature of public engagement from a culture of paternalism and control towards a public centred approach involving collaboration and co creation This book draws on public relations and development communication insights to build a new community engagement model for public sector organisations who wish to engage with rural communities in developing countries This theoretical model also offers a practical framework for Government in particular to engage with and empower rural communities as they adopt and exploit infrastructure developments The outcome is mutual benefit By examining in detail how Government communicates with rural communities on renewable energy infrastructure projects in Indonesia and underpinned by empirical research with those communities this new participatory framework has been developed It envisages progressive empowerment of rural communities as

Government encourages active engagement on the installation and exploitation of renewable energy This entails encouraging communities to determine for themselves their uses of sustainable energy sources and to take ownership of a co determined future In so doing the Government itself is more likely to achieve its own renewable energy commitments Research based and combining theory with practice this thought provoking book will be welcomed by strategic communication and public relations scholars and practitioners alike      Communicating for Social Change Mohan Jyoti Dutta,Dazzelyn Baltazar

Zapata,2018-12-05 The book covers the trajectories and trends in social change communication engaging the key theoretical debates on communication and social change Attending to the concepts of communication and social change that emerge from and across the global margins the book works toward offering theoretical and methodological lessons that de center the dominant constructions of communication and social change The chapters in the book delve into the interplays of academic activist community negotiations in communication for social change and the ways in which these negotiations offer entry points into transformative communication processes of social change Moreover a number of chapters in the book attend to the ways in which Asian articulations of social change are situated at the intersections of culture structure and agency Chapters in the book are extended versions of research presented at the conference on Communicating Social Change Intersections of Theory and Praxis held at the National University of Singapore in 2016 organized under the umbrella of the Center for Culture Centered Approach to Research and Evaluation CARE      Political Communication in Africa Ayo

Olukotun,Sharon Adetutu Omotoso,2017-02-13 This book offers a comprehensive account of the nature and development of political communication in Africa In light of the growing number of African states now turning towards democratic rule as well as the growing utilization of information technologies in Africa the contributors examine topics such as the role of social media in politics strategic political communication political philosophy and political communication Habermas in Africa gender and political communication image dilemma in Africa and issues in political communication research in Africa and identify the frontiers for future research on political communication in Africa      Otherness in Communication Research

Luisa Magalhaes,2025-01-02 This book offers various perspectives from media studies interpersonal communication and intercultural communication on the experience and effects of being othered excluded and treated as less than Its three sections cover 1 expressions of otherness in everyday life 2 experiences of otherness in media discourses and 3 strategies against otherness in social interaction This book challenges the expression of otherness that is frequently related on texts of colonialism and of western social hegemonic characteristic of the Global North therefore giving voice to perspectives from the Global South in a pluralistic reading The collection of contexts in which the expression of otherness is highlighted in this book are presented in the perspective of the powerless other As a receiver involved in a communicative process the othered individual is approached in relation to his identitarian demonstrations both in daily life face to face and virtual contexts and in critical situations These range from households to school and to media environments therefore enhancing a thorough perspective on the phenomenon of othering in plural contexts      Communication for Another Development Wendy Quarry, Ricardo Ramirez, 2013-07-04 This lively book argues that in the development process communication is everything. The authors world experts in this field as teachers practitioners and theorists argue that Communication for Development is a creative and innovative way of thinking that can permeate the overall approach to any development initiative. They illustrate their argument with vivid case studies and tools for the reader drawing on the stories of individual project leaders who have championed development for communication and using a range of situations to show the different possibilities in various contexts. Free from jargon and keeping a close look at how development is actually being implemented at ground level this book is an important contribution to development studies not just for students but also for development practitioners and policy makers.

Engaging Isolated Communities in Disaster Preparation and Communication in the Philippines Dennis John Sumaylo, 2023-09-04 This book provides an account of how local government units in the Philippines engage marginalized and geographically isolated communities in taking part in pre disaster communication efforts. The book focuses on communities classified by the government as Geographically Isolated and Disadvantaged Areas (GIDA) on the culturally rich island of Mindanao Philippines. The focus is centered on GIDA communities because they are assumed to receive less information and help in relation to their circumstances. This book accounts for the disaster preparedness communicative conditions of people living in GIDAS and identifies synergies and tensions in the engagement process. As such specific branches of enquiry focus on how information seeking and sharing experiences of GIDA communities inform the current practice of community engagement. In taking this research approach this book deliberately gives voice to these marginalized and often silenced communities. In general the study examines other possibilities or variables in the pre disaster risk communication process that truly engage geographically isolated and socioeconomically disadvantaged communities in disaster risk reduction and management (DRRM). Considering the existing methodologies used to engage local communities in DRRM this book looks at ways in which bottom up and top down approaches could be melded together for a transformational level of engagement in these communities The novelty of addressing issues concerning geographically isolated communities in a developing country is a research track worthy of being investigated by academics The book is of interest to students and in development communication and disaster risk communication as well as community engagement practitioners specializing in DRRM The framework proposed in this book for engaging isolated communities is helpful to practitioners in designing planning and implementing pre disaster communication and community engagement programs
