Dialectic of Enlightenment Theodor W. Adorno, Max Horkheimer, 1997 No Marketing Blurb Hegelian-Lacanian Variations on Late Modernity Alireza Taheri, 2020-12-29 The current rise in new religions and the growing popularity of New Ageism is concomitant with an increasingly anti philosophical sentiment marking our contemporary situation More specifically it is philosophical and psychoanalytic reason that has lost standing faced with the triumph of post secular spirituality Combatting this trend this treatise develops a theoretical apparatus based on Hegelian speculative reason and Lacanian psychoanalysis With the aid of this theoretical apparatus the book argues how certain conceptual pairs appear opposed through an operation of misrecognition christened following Hegel as diremption The failure to reckon with identities in difference relegates the subject to more vicious contradictions that define central aspects of our contemporary predicament The repeated thesis of the treatise is that the deadlocks marking our contemporary situation require renewed engagement with dialectical thinking beyond the impasses of common understanding Only by embarking on this philosophical psychoanalytic path of despair Hegel will we stand a chance of achieving joyful wisdom Nietzsche Developing a unique dialectical theory based on readings of Hegel Lacan and Iek in order to address various philosophical and psychoanalytic questions this book will be of great interest to anyone interested in German idealism and or psychoanalytic theory

Quan, 2012-08-20 Growth against Democracy Savage Developmentalism in the Modern World by H L T Quan is a compelling interrogation of the ways in which we have thought about modernity capitalism and democracy and how those ideas inform neoliberal economics diplomacy and impact human life To explicate contemporary theories of development Quan introduces the concept of savage developmentalism with its attendant distortions of the ideals of equality and freedom and assumptions that foment antidemocratic social and political forms By outlining the pitfalls of security obsessed developmental approaches Growth against Democracy troubles the simple notion that modernity is inherently superior and development will benefit everyone It shows how capitalists needs for market finance and profitability often lead to development programs that engender expansionism dispossession and repression Drawing on political theory international political economy critical ethnic studies legal studies and feminist analytics this groundbreaking study exemplifies how multi disciplinary scholarship best addresses the increasingly complex and multi layered issues facing humanity today It analyzes the linkages between development and national security and provides sustained attention to the making of foreign policy the development of capitalism and corporate globalization The book highlights three critical examples of where savage developmentalism has eventuated worse living conditions severe social repression and displacement Brazilian Japanese economic relations in Brazil under military rule 1964 1985 China s aggressive courting of African good will and resources and the United States reconstruction of Iraq These three major historical cases represent some of the most momentous global development in the last sixty years and never before have such powerful cases been analyzed in the same monograph Growth against Democracy helps re evaluate the promises of progress security and freedom and broadens our ideas about and priorities for humane public policy at the national and global levels

Climate Change and the Symbol Deficit in the Christian Tradition Jan-Olav Henriksen, 2022-02-24 Exploring how the climate crisis discloses the symbol deficit in the Christian tradition this book argues that Christianity is rich in symbols that identify and address the failures of humans and the obstacles that prevent humans from doing well while positive symbols that can engage people in constructive action seem underdeveloped Henriksen examines the potential of the Christian tradition to develop symbols that can engage peoples in committed and sustained action to prevent further crisis To do so he argues that we need symbols that engage both intellectually and emotionally and which enhance our perception of belonging in relationships with other humans be it both in the present and in the future According to Henriksen the deficit can only be obliterated if we can develop symbols that have some root or resonance in the Christian tradition provide concrete and specified guidance of agency engage people both emotionally and intellectually and finally open up to visions for a moral agency that provide positive motivations for caring about environmental conditions as a whole Theological Anthropology in the Anthropocene Jan-Olav Henriksen, 2022-12-14 The Anthropocene presents theology and especially theological anthropology with unprecedented challenges There are no immediately available resources in the theological tradition that reflect directly on such experiences Accordingly the situation calls for contextually based theological reflection of what it means to be human under such circumstances This book discusses the main elements in theological anthropology in light of the fundamental points a that theological anthropology needs to be articulated with reference to and informed by the concrete historical circumstances in which humanity presently finds itself and b that the notion of the Anthropocene can be used as a heuristic tool to describe important traits and conditions that call for a response by humanity and which entail the need for a renewal of what a Christian self understanding means Jan Olav Henriksen explores what such a response entails from the point of view of contemporary theological anthropology and discusses selected topics that can contribute to a contextually based position Culture and Crisis Nina Witoszek, Lars Trägårdh, 2002 It is often argued that Germany and Scandinavia stand at two opposite ends of a spectrum with regard to their response to social economic disruptions and cultural challenges Though in many respects they have a shared cultural inheritance it is nevertheless the case that they mobilize different mythologies and different modes of coping when faced with breakdown and disorder The authors argue that it is at these critical junctures points of crisis and innovation in the life of communities that the tradition and identity of national and local communities are formed polarized and revalued it is here that social change takes a particular direction

Eighteenth-Century Fiction and the Reinvention of Wonder Sarah Tindal Kareem, 2014-10-23 A footprint materializes mysteriously on a deserted shore a giant helmet falls from the sky a traveler awakens to find his horse dangling from a church steeple Eighteenth century fiction brims with moments such as these in which the prosaic rubs up against the marvelous While it is a truism that the period's literature is distinguished by its realism and air of probability Eighteenth Century Fiction and the Reinvention of Wonder argues that wonder is integral to rather than antithetical to the developing techniques of novelistic fiction Positioning its reader on the cusp between recognition and estrangement between faith and doubt modern fiction hinges upon wonder Eighteenth Century Fiction and the Reinvention of Wonder unfolds its new account of fiction's rise through surprising readings of classic early novels from Daniel Defoe's Robinson Crusoe to Jane Austen's Northanger Abbey and brings to attention lesser known works most notably Rudolf Raspe's Baron Munchausen's Narrative of His Marvellous Travels In this bold new account the eighteenth century bears witness not to the world's disenchantment but rather to wonder's relocation from the supernatural realm to the empirical world providing a reevaluation not only of how we look back at the Enlightenment but also of how we read today

These characteristics are argued to shape even those spectator subjects towards the left of the political spectrum thus necessitating a careful reconsideration of new and long standing dramaturgies of political provocation Dramaturgies examined include the ironic invitations of Made in China and Martin Crimp the exploration of affect in Kieran Hurley's Heads Up the new sincerity that characterizes the work of Andy Smith the turn to the staging of the spectators other in Developing Artists Queens of Syria and Chris Thorpe and Rachel Chavkin's Confirmation and the community activism of Common Wealth's The Deal Versus the People
