The Development of An Art History in the UAE Sophie Kazan Makhoul, 2024-10-15 This book draws together an oral and visual art history of a country that is extremely rich in culture and history but that is often overlooked or underestimated. By observing the country's history and visual culture and the artistic practices of select artists from the UAE, it considers the development of contemporary art from the UAE. This will increase accessibility to art by Emiratis and underline its wider relevance. There is a dearth of literature on contemporary art by Emiratis and this may be one of the reasons contemporary art from the UAE is underrepresented globally. In order to help the reader better understand art from the UAE, this book traces the country's historical make-up, its culture and contemporary art tradition through oral histories based on interviews with a wide variety of artists and people working in the art industries. It also explores this development using global art discourses that are relevant to art produced in the UAE today. This book also considers how cultural and artistic identities are formed and explores the political and socio-economic interests in the country that have stimulated art practices and appreciation. For so long, an exclusively Western narrative has dominated. Art and popular media portrays the Gulf's accomplishments in development and modernity with suspicion. Thanks to the UAE's espousal of the Internet and online communities over the last decade, this book is particularly timely. Following the pandemic, a wider understanding of global art discourses, values and perceptions are increasingly welcomed. Art from the UAE bridges the local and the global, giving a voice and a visual presence to a country's contemporary art tradition that has been widely overlooked. The UAE has a distinct visual arts tradition that relates to a broader and inclusive understanding of art centered on development and change.

Art in the Middle East Sabrina de Turk, 2019-06-27 Since the 2011 Arab Spring street art has been a vehicle for political discourse in the Middle East and has generated much discussion in both the popular media and academia Yet this conversation has generalised street art and identified it as a singular form with identical styles and objectives throughout the region Street art's purpose is however defined by the socio cultural circumstances of its production Middle Eastern artists thus adopt distinctive methods in creating their individual work and responding to their individual environments Here in this new book Sabrina De Turk employs rigorous visual analysis to explore the diversity of Middle Eastern street art and uses case studies of countries as varied as Egypt Tunisia Lebanon Palestine Bahrain and Oman to illustrate how geographic specifics impact upon its function and aesthetic Her book will be of significant interest to scholars specialising in art from the Middle East and North Africa and those who bring an interdisciplinary perspective to Middle East studies
