(Hennie) Lötter,2021-11-01 This book presents a theory of justice whereby people living in radically unjust societies may transform such societies in the direction of justice The identification of injustice is addressed since a radically unjust society may well conceal its injustice from its victims The book considers a range of moral and pragmatic requirements of political action in the transformation of society A special feature of this work of theory is that it is illustrated by troubling examples drawn from the history of South Africa The case made here is that justice is not just for just societies It is for all of us everywhere The Confessing Society Andreas Fejes,Magnus Dahlstedt,2013-05-02 I highly appreciate the quality of Fejes and Dahlstedt s research and writing They manage to present in a comprehensible way some essential concepts of Foucault that help us to understand better what practices of lifelong learning in a broad sense are emerging nowadays in advanced liberal societies In doing so they contribute to the renewal of critical thinking in education They convince me that such renewal is important and necessary and I think both theoreticians and practitioners of lifelong learning will equally recognize and value this analysis particularly also because they present a good mix of theory and practice Professor Danny Wildemeersch Today people are constantly encouraged to verbalise and disclose their true inner self to others whether on TV shows in newspapers in family life or together with friends Such encouragement to disclose the self has proliferated through discourses on lifelong learning through which each citizen is encouraged to become a constant learner The Confessing Society takes a critical stance towards the modern relentless will to disclose the self and argues that society has become a confessing society Drawing on Foucault's later work on confession and governmentality this book carefully analyses how confession operates within practices of lifelong learning as a way to shape activated and responsible citizens and provides examples of how it might be possible to traverse the confessional truth of the present time Chapters include Reflection and Reflective Practices Deliberation and Therapeutic Intervention Lifelong Guidance Medialised Parenting This controversial book is international in its scope and pursues current debates regarding trans national policy and to research discussions on education lifelong learning and governance and it will provoke lively debate amongst educational practitioners academics postgraduate and research students in education and lifelong learning in Europe North America and Australasia Big Ideas in Collaborative Public Management Lisa Blomgren Bingham, Rosemary O'Leary, 2014-12-18 The world of public management is changing dramatically fueled by technological innovations such as the Internet globalism that permits us to outsource functions anywhere in the world new ideas from network theory and more Public managers no longer are unitary leaders of unitary organizations instead they often find themselves convening negotiating mediating and collaborating across borders Big Ideas in Collaborative Public Management brings together a rich variety of big picture perspectives on collaborative public management The chapters are all original and written by distinguished experts Designed for practical application they range from examinations of under what conditions collaborative public management occurs to what it means to be a collaborative leader The contributors address tough issues such as legitimacy building in networks and discuss ways to engage citizens in collaboration They examine the design of collaborative networks and the outcomes of collaboration Detailed introductory and concluding chapters by the editors summarize and critique the chapters and frame them as a reflection of the state of collaborative public management today The Change Handbook (Volume 1 of 2) (EasyRead Edition), Democracy's News G.
