Disarmament Demobilization And Reintegration Ddr A:

Post-conflict Disarmament, Demobilization and Reintegration Antonio Giustozzi, 2016-04-08 This book revisits post Cold War Disarmament Disintegration and Reintegration DDR programmes in the light of previous experiences of disarmament demobilisation and reintegration In the history of North America and Europe in particular such programmes had a major impact on state building contributing to the development of the welfare state shaping political settlements and directing government policy to maintain social peace The authors in this important book ask what is left of these state building dimensions in contemporary DDR programmes and whether the constraints imposed by international organisations on DDR programmes have more negative effects than positive ones The role of political leadership in DDR processes is highlighted can bureaucratically driven processes deliver success Only if political elites take full control and manage DDR programmes can there be a lasting impact on state building Even then most political elites avoid deep changes in their relationship with the veterans Is there a chance of reshaping international intervention in such a way as to favour the development of a social contract between political elites and veterans In taking a historical perspective this book is unique in the existing literature on DDR and will be essential reading for policy makers students and scholars of conflict studies and those working in NGOs particularly donor agencies This volume was produced with the contribution of the Crisis States Research Centre LSE Postwar Recovery Alpaslan Ozerdem, 2009 Though conflict has been the focus of much academic attention the processes of recovering from war and conflict have been little studied Confusion still exists as to whether post war reconstruction is concerned with relief or development with physical rebuilding economic recovery social reintegration or political reconstruction The result is an all too frequent fragmentation and waste of effort on the ground An understanding of the need to plan and integrate the many different activities for reconstruction and recovery within a shared vision is therefore crucial The International Library of Post war Reconstruction and Development will set out a conceptual and strategic framework for post war reconstruction practice at the same time exploring and illustrating specific aspects of practice for those working in the field or training to do so The series will also act as a focus for a continuing dialogue between academics and practitioners at the forefront of developing the discipline BOOK JACKET Disarmament, Demobilization, and Reintegration Desmond Molloy, 2017 Disarmament demobilization and reintegration or DDR has been widely advocated for decades as an essential component of postconflict peacebuilding But DDR in practice has generated more questions than answers Does the approach work contributing to postconflict stabilization and the reintegration of former combatants Can it work better What constitutes success What accounts for failures Do the potential risks outweigh the potential benefits Drawing on his extensive experience in the field Desmond Molloy considers these questions and more as he traces the evolution of DDR theory and practice from the mid 1980s to the present Publisher's website Disarmament, Demobilization and Reintegration and Security Sector Reform Alan Bryden, Vincenza

Scherrer,2012 This book sets out to break down and identify positive associations between Disarmament Demobilization and Reintegration DDR and Security Sector Reform SSR Drawing on case studies from selected post conflict settings the book demonstrates the potential and reality of improved collaboration between both endeavors Enhanced cooperation could avoid negative outcomes such as former combatants dropping out of programs trust undermined in security institutions and the creation of security vacuums that jeopardize the safety of individuals and communities A central claim of the book is that programs must be responsive to the needs and interests of different national actors Without understanding the dynamic political processes that shape the origins parameters and outcomes of both processes DDR and SSR may address security deficits but will be unfit to support sustainable transitions towards national recovery and development Series Geneva Centre for the Democratic Control of Armed Forces DCAF Disarmament, Demobilization and Reintegration in Southern Africa

DDR and SSR Michael Miklaucic, 2011 Disarmament Demobilization and Reintegration DDR and Security Sector Reform SSR have emerged in recent years as promising though generally poorly understood mechanisms for consolidating stability and reasserting state sovereignty after conflict Despite the considerable experience acquired by the international community the critical interrelationship between DDR and SSR and the ability to use these mechanisms with consistent success remain less than optimally developed The chapters in this book reflect a diversity of field experience and research in DDR and SSR which suggest that these are complex and interrelated systems with underlying political attributes Successful application of DDR and SSR requires the setting aside of preconceived assumptions or formulas and should be viewed flexibly to restore to the state the monopoly of force Page 4 of cover

Sharpening Our Efforts Erol K. Yayboke, 2019-09-17 As policymakers confront the ongoing challenge of radicalization and violent extremism it is important that stakeholders and counterterrorism strategists recognize the critical role for development and other non kinetic approaches to counter violent extremism To that end this new anthology takes a multidimensional role mapping out the role of soft power institutions in enabling lasting peace prosperity and global security

Sierra Leone Brett Sillinger, 2003 The small underdeveloped countries of Africa seem to harbour all the flammable elements necessary to ignite civil wars and revolutions Since 1991 the small West African country of Sierra Leone has been besieged by the Revolutionary United Front RUF a guerrilla group cum political party that implored a radical populist political agenda The cause of this conflict was the growth of systemic government corruption in the decades following the 1961 independence which ultimately led to a severe deterioration of the state governing capacity The contention over the control of the country's vast mineral wealth which includes diamonds as well as foreign interference notably from the Liberian government with which the RUF reportedly traded diamonds for arms further fuelled the struggle The 1999 Lom Peace Accord brought about an end to the conflict RUF leadership changes and a cease fire agreement in 2000 followed by conflict resolution meetings between government RUF and UN officials also contributed to a more peaceful situation in Sierra Leone This book explores the struggle facing the people of Sierra Leone in adopting to these new changes as well as the UN's sponsored disarmament efforts and electoral support for the new government The hand that the United States has had in delivering humanitarian assistance to this country will be examined as well as the efforts made to try those guilty of crimes against humanity

Extremisms in Africa Volume 2 Alain Tschudin, Craig Moffat, Stephen Buchanan-Clarke, Susan Russell, Lloyd Coutts, 2019-06-18 Over the past two decades the rapid emergence and spread of both local and transnational extremist organisations has become a primary source of insecurity in Africa Extremist organisations represent the fluid and variable nature of conflict systems today and are at the heart of some of Africa's most enduring conflicts. Moreover, the inability of African states to contain the threat of extremism or of heavy-handed security responses has led to the loss of thousands of lives, displaced millions, and deeply impacted the continent's democratisation and development goals. This is the second anthology published by Good Governance Africa (GGA) on the topic of extremism and political violence in Africa. Extremisms in Africa, one of the first anthologies of its kind on this topic to be authored and published on the African continent, provided an account of how extremist groups arose in Africa and the various ways in which they have harnessed their global agendas to local conflict dynamics and structural challenges, enabling them to exploit the grievances of individuals and communities for their cause. This anthology, Extremisms in Africa Volume 2, looks forward, giving special attention to the ways in which emergent trends in global geopolitics and conflict dynamics merge to impact upon the African continent. To this end, we have sought to engage diverse topics ranging from ecological concerns surrounding climate change and migration, the implications of such human movement for modern-day trafficking and slavery, and the roles of women and youth. State responses to extremism on the African continent are not uniform; the capacity of individual states to detect, identify, police, investigate, and prosecute is highly variable. At the most fundamental level, extremism is ripe to arise in contexts where governments are failing, especially when democracy is on the wane. This anthology identifies some of the most pressing challenges in addressing extremism today and provides chapters that could offer actionable policy insights to governments and civil society. Given the nature of Africa's geopolitical landscape, state and security services alone cannot prevent extremism. It will take a whole-of-society approach where government, civil society, academia, communities, families, and individuals collaborate to better understand the local dynamics of recruitment and radicalisation and develop context-specific strategies in response. This anthology will hopefully provide practitioners with improved insight into some of the key challenges and potential solutions in preventing extremism, while also being of interest to the general reader.

Peacebuilding, Power, and Politics in Africa (Devon Curtis, Gwinyayi A. Dzinesa, 2012-09-21) is a critical reflection on peacebuilding efforts in Africa. The authors expose the tensions and contradictions in different clusters of peacebuilding activities, including peace negotiations, statebuilding, security sector governance, and disarmament, demobilization, and reintegration. Essays also address the institutional framework for peacebuilding in Africa and the ideological underpinnings of key institutions, including the African Union, NEPAD, the African Development Bank, the Pan-African Ministers Conference for Public and Civil Service, the UN Peacebuilding Commission, the World Bank, and the International Criminal Court. The volume includes on-the-ground case study chapters on Sudan, the Great Lakes Region of Africa, Sierra Leone, and Liberia, the Niger Delta, Southern Africa, and Somalia, analyzing how peacebuilding operates in particular African contexts. The authors adopt a variety of approaches, but they share a conviction that peacebuilding in Africa is not a script authored solely in Western capitals and in the corridors of the United Nations. Rather, the writers in this volume focus on the interaction between local and global ideas and practices in the reconstitution of authority and livelihoods after conflict The book systematically showcases the tensions that occur within and between the many actors involved in the peacebuilding industry as well as their intended beneficiaries It looks at the multiple ways in which peacebuilding ideas and initiatives are reinforced questioned reappropriated and redesigned by different African actors A joint project between the Centre for Conflict Resolution in Cape Town South Africa and the Centre of African Studies at the University of Cambridge

The Oxford Handbook of Gender and Conflict Fionnuala Ní Aoláin,Naomi Cahn,Dina Francesca Haynes,Nahla Valji,2017-12-15 Traditionally much of the work studying war and conflict has focused on men Men commonly appear as soldiers commanders casualties and civilians Women by contrast are invisible as combatants and when seen are typically pictured as victims The field of war and conflict studies is changing more recently scholars of war and conflict have paid increasing notice to men as a gendered category and given sizeable attention to women s multiple roles in conflict and post conflict settings The Oxford Handbook of Gender and Conflict focuses on the multidimensionality of gender in conflict yet it also prioritizes the experience of women given both the changing nature of war and the historical de emphasis on women s experiences Today s wars are not staged encounters involving formal armies but societal wars that operate at all levels from house to village to city Women are necessarily involved at each level Operating from this basic intellectual foundation the editors have arranged the volume into seven core sections the theoretical foundations of the role of gender in violent conflicts the sources for studying contemporary conflict the conflicts themselves the post conflict process institutions and actors the challenges presented by the evolving nature of war and finally a substantial set of case studies from across the globe Genuinely comprehensive this Handbook will not only serve as an authoritative overview of this massive topic it will set the research agenda for years to come
