Mack, Vernon K. Robbins, 2008-10-30 Patterns of Persuasion in the Gospels will open the next stage in Synoptic studies Mack and Robbins have returned synoptic criticism to the road it missed when Bultmann and Dibelius decided to ignore Greco Roman education and rhetoric Starting from a sophisticated and detailed study of what the rhetorical handbooks say about the elaboration of chreiai they illuminate the most basic techniques and logic which the Gospel writers used in developing the Jesus traditions It is required reading for everyone with a serious interest in the critical study of the Gospels Stanley K Stowers Brown University Author of Letter Writing in Greco Roman Authority An impressive programmatic argument which successfully challenges conventional approaches to the Jesus tradition It demonstrates the relevance of Hellenistic rhetorical theory for composition analysis of the sayings tradition A groundbreaking study which all serious students of the gospels must consider David E Aune St Xavier College Author of The New Testament in Its Literary Environment In this important new book Mack and Robbins have clarified the patterns of persuasion that form the social historical and narrative worlds of the earliest Christians All those who want a hands on manual for studying the characters stories and argumentation of scripture will welcome this learned discussion of primary texts Highly recommended for any person who is serious about

The Date of Mark's Gospel James G. Crossley, 2004-05-01 This book argues that Mark s gospel was not written as late as c 65-75 CE but dates from sometime between the late 30s and early 40s CE It challenges the use of the external evidence such as Irenaeus and Clement of Alexandria often used for dating Mark relying instead on internal evidence from the gospel itself James Crossley also questions the view that Mark 13 reflects the Jewish war arguing that there are other plausible historical settings Crossley argues that Mark s gospel takes for granted that Jesus fully observed biblical law and that Mark could only make such an assumption at a time when Christianity was largely law observant and this could not have been later than the mid 40s from which point on certain Jewish and gentile Christians were no longer observing some biblical laws e.g. food Sabbath
