Mendelssohn, Goethe, and the Walpurgis Night John Michael Cooper, 2007

Mendelssohn Goethe and the Walpurgis Night is a book about tolerance and acceptance in the face of cultural political and religious strife Its point of departure is the Walpurgis Night The Night also known as Beltane or May Eve was supposedly an annual witches Sabbath that centered around the Brocken the highest peak of the Harz Mountains After exploring how a notoriously pagan celebration came to be named after the Christian missionary St Walpurgis ca 710 79 John Michael Cooper discusses the Night s treatments in several closely interwoven works by Goethe and Mendelssohn His book situates those works in their immediate personal and professional contexts as well as among treatments by a wide array of other artists philosophers and political thinkers including Voltaire Lessing Shelley Heine Delacroix and Berlioz In an age of decisive political and religious conflict Walpurgis Night became a heathen muse a source of inspiration that was neither specifically Christian nor Jewish nor Muslim And Mendelssohn s and Goethe s engagements with it offer new insights into its role in European cultural history as well as into issues of political religious and social identity and the relations between cultural groups in today s world John Michael Cooper Southwestern University is the author of Mendelssohn s Italian Symphony Oxford University Press

Schumann's Piano Cycles and the Novels of Jean Paul Erika Reiman, 2004 A study on the influence which the German novelist Jean Paul Friedrich Richter had upon Robert Schumann's music Robert Schumann frequently expressed his deep admiration for the novels of Jean Paul Friedrich Richter the late eighteenth century German novelist essayist and satirist Schumann imitated Jean Paul's prose style in his own fiction and music criticism and said once that he learned more counterpoint from Jean Paul than from my music teacher Drawing on the recent groundbreaking work in musicological analysis of scholars such as Anthony Newcomb John Daverio and Lawrence Kramer Erika Reiman embarks on a comparative study of Jean Paul's five major novels and Schumann's piano cycles of the 1830s many of which are staples in the repertoire of concert pianists today The present study begins with a thorough review of Jean Paul's literary style emphasizing the digressions intertextuality self reflexivity and otherworldliness that distinguish it The similarly digressive style that Schumann developed is then examined in his earliest works including the enduring and highly original Carnaval 1835 and in cycles of the later 1830s notably David's Birthday and Faschingsschwank aus Wien Finally an analysis of three one movement works from 1838-39 reveals links with Jean Paul's exploration of the idyll an ancient genre that had experienced an eighteenth century revival Throughout the author attempts to keep in mind the actual sound and performed experience of the works and suggests ways in which an awareness of Jean Paul's style might change the performance and hearing of the cycles Erika Reiman received her Ph.D. in Musicology from the University of Toronto 1999 and has taught at Brock University Wilfrid Laurier University the University of Guelph and the University of Toronto she is also active as a pianist and chamber musician

Déodat de Séverac Robert F. Waters, 2017-07-05 Dat de Srac 1872 1921 is best known for his piano music but his compositions included orchestral and vocal works including opera cantata and incidental music Claude Debussy described Srac's music as exquisite and rich with ideas The early works were influenced by Impressionist harmonies church modes cyclic techniques folk like melodies and Andalusian motives Srac's style changed dramatically in 1907 when he left Paris and began to include Catalan elements in his compositions a transition that has hitherto gone unrecognized Robert Waters provides a much needed study of the life and works of Srac focusing on the composer's regionalist philosophy Srac's engagement with folk music was not a patriotic gesture in the vein of nationalistic composers but a way of expressing regional identity within France to counter the restrictive styles sanctioned by the Paris Conservatory His musical philosophy mirrored larger social and political debates regarding anti centralist positions on education politics art and culture in fin de siècle France Such debates involved political and social leaders whom Srac knew and personally admired including the writer Maurice Barrand the poet Frédéric Mistral The book will appeal to those specializing in French music European ethnic musics piano music and French music history

"The Music of American Folk Song" and Selected Other Writings on American Folk Music Ruth Crawford Seeger, Larry Polansky, 2001 This is the first publication of an annotated monograph by the noted composer and folksong scholar Ruth Crawford Seeger Originally written as a foreword for the 1940 book Our Singing Country it was considered too long and was replaced by a much shorter version According to her stepson Pete Seeger when the original was not included Ruth suffered one of the biggest disappointments of the last ten years of her life It just killed her She was trying to analyze the whole style and problem of performing this music Along with her children Mike and Peggy Seeger he has long desired to see this work in print as it was meant to be read The manuscript has been edited from several varying sources by Larry Polansky with the assistance of Seeger's biographer Judith Tick It is divided into two sections I A Note on Transcription and II Notes on the Songs and on Manners of Singing Seeger examines all aspects of the relationship between singer song notation the eventual performer and the transcriber In Section I Seeger develops a complex and well organized system of notation for these songs which is meant to be both descriptive transcription as cultural preservation and prescriptive she intended that others would be able to perform these songs In Section II she provides an interpretive theory for performance of this music and suggests how performers might make the songs their own through a deep knowledge of the original styles Ruth Crawford Seeger considered this work to be both a major accomplishment and a central statement of her own ideas on the topic Larry Polansky is Associate Professor of Music at Dartmouth College and a well known composer and theorist on American music Judith Tick is Professor of Music at Northeastern University and author of the first major biography of Ruth Crawford Seeger

The Pleasure of Modernist Music Arved Mark Ashby, 2004 The debate over modernist music has continued for almost a century from Berg's Wozzeck and Webern's Symphony Op 21 to John Cage's renegotiation of musical control the unusual musical practices of the Velvet Underground and Stanley Kubrick's use of Ligeti's Lux Aeterna in the epic film 2001 The composers discussed in these pages including Bartók Stockhausen Bernard Herrmann Steve Reich and many others are modernists in that they are defined by their individualism whether covert or overt and share a basic urge toward redesigning musical discourse The aim of this volume is to negotiate a varied and open middle ground between polemical extremes of reception The contributors sketch out the possible significance of a repertory that in past discussions has been deemed either meaningless or beyond describable meaning With an emphasis on recent aesthetics and contexts including film music sexuality metaphor and ideas of a listening grammar they trace the meanings that such works and composers have held for listeners of different kinds None of them takes up the usual mandate of educated listening to modernist works the notion that a person can appreciate difficult music if given enough time and schooling Instead the book defines novel but meaningful avenues of significance for modernist music avenues beyond those deemed appropriate or acceptable by the academy While some contributors offer new listening strategies most interpret the listening premise more loosely as a metaphor for any manner of personal and immediate connection with music In addition to a previously untranslated article by Pierre Boulez the volume contains articles all but one previously unpublished by twelve distinctive and prominent composers music critics and music theorists from America Europe Australia and South Africa Arved Ashby Amy Bauer William Bolcom Jonathan Bernard Judy Lochhead Fred Maus Andrew Mead Greg Sandow Martin Scherzinger Jeremy Tambling Richard Toop and Lloyd Whitesell Arved Ashby is Associate Professor of Music at the Ohio State University
