

Economic Transformation in the GCC

One of the most striking features of economic transformation in the GCC region is the growth of the non-oil sector compared to the oil sector in terms of GDP contribution. Saudi Arabia and the UAE have largely spearheaded this transformation in the last few years.

Commentary

Bahrain, Growth of Oil and Non-Oil GDP in Real Terms (%), 2023 - 2026F

Kuwait, Growth of Oil and Non-Oil GDP in Real Terms (%), 2023 - 2026F

Oman, Growth of Oil and Non-Oil GDP in Real Terms (%), 2023 - 2026F

Qatar, Growth of Oil and Non-Oil GDP in Real Terms (%), 2023 - 2026F

Saudi Arabia, Growth of Oil and Non-Oil GDP in Real Terms (%), 2023 - 2026F

The UAE, Growth of Oil and Non-Oil GDP in Real Terms (%), 2023 - 2026F

- In the GCC countries, the momentum for non-oil growth has been quite strong in 2023.
- However, this was not enough to compensate for a downside in oil receipts. This has been most notable in Saudi Arabia and Kuwait where the highest contraction in real GDP was observed in 2023.
- On the other hand, in the UAE and Bahrain, construction and tourism sectors contributed to an overall strong non-oil performance. Furthermore, in UAE, increased migration and capital inflows from Russia, as per the World Bank, also contributed to a strong non-oil contribution.
- Oman and Qatar have managed modest growth in 2023 and 2024.

Gcc Market Overview And Economic Outlook 2017 A:

Gulf Cooperation Council Countries (GCC) International Monetary Fund, 2018-12-06 Financial systems in the GCC have developed significantly over the last couple of decades but there appears to be further room for progress. The development of bank and equity markets has been supported by a combination of buoyant economic activity, a booming Islamic finance sector and financial sector reforms. As a result, financial systems have deepened and overall the level of financial development compares well with emerging markets. However, it still lags advanced economies and other than for Saudi Arabia appears to be lower than would be expected given economic fundamentals such as income levels. Financial development in the GCC has relied to a large extent on banks while debt markets and nonbank financial institutions are less developed and access to equity markets is narrow. The non bank financial institutions, pension funds, asset management and finance companies and insurance remain small. Domestic debt markets are underdeveloped. While equity markets appear to be well developed by market size, they are dominated by a few large and often public sector companies. GCC countries have made progress on financial inclusion but gaps remain in some important areas. Access to finance for SMEs, women and youth in particular appears relatively low. This may partly reflect social norms, low levels of participation of women in the labor market and private sector activity and the high level of youth unemployment. Further financial development and inclusion is likely to be associated with stronger economic growth in the GCC countries. While there is uncertainty surrounding the empirical estimates in the paper, further progress with financial development and or inclusion is likely to go hand in hand with stronger growth. The growth benefits however are likely to vary across countries depending on the current level of financial development and inclusion. To realize these growth benefits, reforms to strengthen access to finance for SMEs, women and youth are needed. Addressing institutional weaknesses and promoting financial sector competition would help boost access to finance for SMEs. Reforms to enhance financial literacy and improve SME governance structures and insolvency frameworks are critical. Other reforms encouraging female and youth employment and the use of emerging technologies in finance also appear promising. Additional reforms to foster financial development should focus on developing debt markets and making stock markets more accessible to a larger pool of companies and investors. To grow domestic debt markets, the authorities should develop a government yield curve, seek to increase market liquidity through secondary market trading and ensure requirements for private issuance are not onerous. Stock market reforms should focus on enhancing corporate governance and investor protection, removing restrictions on foreign ownership and encouraging financial market competition. The latter would also help the development of non bank financial institutions.

Corporate Governance in MENA Building a Framework for Competitiveness and Growth OECD, 2019-04-15 A strong corporate governance framework is essential for MENA economies as they strive to boost economic growth, strengthen competitiveness and build prosperous societies. The G20 OECD Principles of Corporate Governance and the OECD Guidelines on Corporate Governance of State Owned Enterprises are a reference in order to build such a framework      Gulf Cooperation Council International Monetary Fund,2018-12-06 Diversification of the GCC economies supported by greater openness to trade and higher foreign investment can have a large impact on growth Such measures can support higher sustained and more inclusive growth by improving the allocation of resources across sectors and producers creating jobs triggering technology spillovers promoting knowledge creating a more competitive business environment and enhancing productivity The GCC countries are open to trade but much less so to foreign direct investment FDI GCC foreign trade has been expanding robustly but FDI inflows have stalled in recent years despite policy efforts taken to reduce administrative barriers and provide incentives to attract FDI Tariffs are relatively low however a number of non tariff barriers to trade persist and there are substantial restrictions on foreign ownership of businesses and real estate The growth impact of closing export and FDI gaps could be significant In most countries the biggest boost to growth would come from closing the FDI gap up to one percentage point increase in real non oil per capita GDP growth Closing export gaps could provide an additional growth dividend in the range of 0.2-0.5 percentage point Boosting non oil exports and attracting more FDI requires a supportive policy environment Policy priorities are to upgrade human capital increase productivity and competitiveness improve the business climate and reduce remaining barriers to foreign trade and investment Specifically continued reforms in the following areas will be important Human capital development continue with investments made to raise educational quality to provide knowledge and skills upgrade Labor market reforms aim to improve productivity and boost competitiveness of the non oil economy Legal frameworks ensure predictability and protection efforts should include enhancing minority investor protection and dispute resolution implementing anti bribery and integrity measures Business climate reforms focus on further liberalizing foreign ownership regulations and strengthening corporate governance and on further reducing non tariff trade barriers by streamlining and automating border procedures and streamlining administrative processes for issuing permits      Regional Economic in the Middle East and third world countries The book aims to rectify this imbalance by offering practical insights derived from Qatar Foundation showcasing the advantages of adopting the FBP model It goes beyond theoretical frameworks presenting in depth data analysis that substantiates the pivotal role of FBPs in supporting effective decision making processes By delving into essential concepts such as change management contingency theory and organizational culture the book provides a comprehensive understanding of the factors influencing the successful adoption and implementation of the FBP model Notably it introduces practical examples and real world applications to underscore the model s efficacy making it a valuable resource for both scholars and practitioners in the fields of management and financial accounting     A

Low-Carbon Future for the Middle East and Central Asia: What are the Options? Gareth Anderson, Ms. Jiayi Ma, Mr. Tokhir N Mirzoev, Tokhir Mirzoev, Ling Zhu, Karlygash Zhunussova, 2022-11-06 Nearly all countries in the Middle East and Central Asia have pledged to contain greenhouse gas emissions as part of the Paris Agreement The purpose of this paper is to identify the menu of fiscal policy options which would allow the region to fulfil its missions reduction commitment Specifically the paper examines and estimates the tradeoff between two broad categories of fiscal policies public investments in renewable sources of energy and measures that raise the effective price of fossil fuels Such a dichotomy captures the key medium term macroeconomic and long term intergenerational trade offs that are arguably the most pertinent for the countries in the Middle East and Central Asia where governments are likely to play a leading role in the low carbon transition At one end of this tradeoff a gradual removal of all fuel subsidies and in addition a phased introduction of a carbon tax of 8 per metric ton of CO<sub>2</sub> equivalent in the Middle East North Africa Afghanistan and Pakistan MENAP and 4 in the Caucasus and Central Asia CCA over the next eight years could achieve the region s 2030 emissions abatement goals without additional investments in renewables T Alternatively additional combined public investments of close to US 900 billion in renewable sources of energy between 2023 and 2030 would allow achieving the region s emissions reduction targets with fuel subsidies reduced by two thirds and without any carbon tax In practice most countries are likely to choose a mix of these policies based on their individual circumstances Importantly the deployment of non fiscal mitigation policies such as tightening of environmental regulations such as raising emissions standards or incentivizing green private investments could play an important role in reducing the required fiscal effort and improving the tradeoff described above Global and regional initiatives to provide affordable financial support and technological assistance would be equally important in improving the region s economic options Regardless of the chosen strategy delaying the rollout of mitigation policies would make achieving the emissions reduction targets more difficult and costly Therefore an early start will be essential to tread a smoother path toward a low carbon future in the Middle East and Central Asia
