From A Shattered Sun Hierarchy Gender And Alliance In The Tanimbar Islands:

From a Shattered Sun Susan McKinnon, 1991 Among a growing number of ethnographies of eastern Indonesia that deal with cosmology exchange and kinship From a Shattered Sun is the first to address squarely issues originally broached by Edmund Leach and Claude Lévi Strauss concerning the relation between hierarchy and equality in asymmetric systems of marriage On the basis of extensive fieldwork in the Tanimbar islands Susan McKinnon analyzes the simultaneous presence of both closed asymmetric cycles and open asymmetric pathways of alliance of both egalitarian and hierarchical configurations In addition Tanimbarese society is marked by the existence of multiple differentially valued forms of marriage affiliation and residence Rather than seeing these various forms as analytically separable types McKinnon demonstrates that it is only by viewing them as integrally related in terms of culturally specific understandings of houses gender and exchange that one can perceive the processes through which hierarchy and equality are created Biographical Objects Janet

Cynthia R. Chapman, 2016-01-01 This work reevaluates the biblical house of the father in light of the anthropological critique of the patrilineal model It uncovers and defines the contours of an underappreciated yet socially significant kinship unit in the Bible the house of the mother Tracing the History of Contemporary Taiwan's Aboriginal Groups Su-Chiu

Kuo, 2022-09-28 Using archaeological evidence the author investigates the prehistories of Austronesian migrants to Taiwan and their connections to contemporary peoples in Taiwan Due to its unique geographic location Taiwan has played a significant role in various peoples maritime migrations and the process of cultural interactions for tens of thousands of years Within the history of humankind Taiwan has also evidenced a high degree of cultural continuity Paleolithic people had already settled on the island at least 30 000 years ago but Taiwan only entered the historical period as recently as the 17th century Before this there was a long and continuous development over the prehistoric period To this day there are at least 20 different indigenous ethnic groups on the island totalling over half a million people all of whom speak Austronesian languages Investigating the archaeology of abandoned villages Kuo takes the Paiwan and Sanhe cultures as key case studies of these groups This book provides valuable insight for historians and archaeologists of Taiwan and scholars of prehistoric Austronesian migration

Locating the Sacred Claudia Moser,Cecelia Feldman,2014-01-01 Ritual happens in distinct places in temples in caves along pilgrimage routes and religious activities there incorporate a diverse set of objects such as holy water cult statues and sacred texts Understanding religious ritual requires viewing it not as a disembodied event but as emplaced grounded in both built and natural surroundings and integrated with its associated material objects Here authors examine various religious practices in the Greco Roman world and pilgrimage routes in contemporary Israel Other contributions focus on the East on domestic religion in prehistoric Taiwan and the palimpsest of ritual activity in Buddhist China One author considers not just ritual s built and natural setting but also the landscape of the human mind By way of conclusion many of the recurring issues concerning the material and topographic matrix of ritual practice are expanded upon in a final meditation on sacred space The papers in this volume with their disciplinary geographic and chronological diversity will serve as a resource for theoretical approaches to the study of ritual practice that may have broad cross cultural application and provide new insight into the relationship between ritual and place The volume is based on a conference held at Brown University

A World of Water P. Boomgaard,2007-01-01 Water in its many guises has always played a powerful role in shaping Southeast Asian histories cultures societies and economies This volume the rewritten results of an international workshop with participants from eight countries contains thirteen essays representing a broad range of approaches to the study of Southeast Asia with water as the central theme As it was exposed to the sea the region was more accessible to outside political economic and cultural influences than many landlocked areas Easy access through sea routes also stimulated trade from an early age However the same easy access made Southeast Asia vulnerable to political control by strong outsiders The sea is moreover a source of food but also of many hazards At the same time Southeast Asian societies and cultures are confronted with and permeated by water from heaven in the form of rain flash floods irrigation water water in rivers brooks and swamps water driven power plants and pumped or piped water in addition to water as a carrier of sewage and pollution Finally the volume deals with the role of water in classification systems beliefs myths illness and healing

been an area neglected by New Guinea Studies Only in the late seventies interest began to focus more intensively on this scientifically important border area between Austronesian and Papuan languages and cultures In the early nineties this led to the creation in The Netherlands of the Irian Jaya Studies programme ISIR which organizes and coordinates multi disciplinary research on the Bird s Head Peninsula Within this framework study of the peninsula has reached a peak with research being conducted in the area by scientists from different disciplines anthropology archaeology ethno botany demography development administration geology and linguistics The diverse perspectives of these disciplines are subject to constant internal debate Through ISIR and other research initiatives there is a growing body of data on and insights into the various disciplines concerned with this fascinating area with each discipline developing its own specific perspectives on the Bird s Head These perspectives were presented during the First International Conference Perspectives on the Bird s Head of Irian Jaya Indonesia organized by ISIR in cooperation with the Indonesian Institute of Sciences LIPI Jakarta and the International Institute for Asian Studies ILAS Leiden and held at Leiden University 13 17 October 1997 Researchers were informed on current perspectives in many disciplines to facilitate integration of findings into wider interdisciplinary frameworks and to stimulate international debate within and between disciplines As a result of the Conference the forty two contributions in these Proceedings present a wealth of recent developments from various disciplines in New Guinea Studies

The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology Simon Coleman, Susan Hyatt, Ann Kingsolver, 2016-11-25 The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology is an invaluable guide and major reference source for students and scholars alike introducing its readers to key contemporary perspectives and approaches within the field Written by an experienced international team of contributors with an interdisciplinary range of essays this collection provides a powerful overview of the transformations currently affecting anthropology The volume both addresses the concerns of the discipline and comments on its construction through texts classroom interactions engagements with various publics and changing relations with other academic subjects Persuasively demonstrating that a number of key contemporary issues can be usefully analyzed through an anthropological lens the contributors cover important topics such as globalization law and politics collaborative archaeology economics religion citizenship and community health and the environment The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology is a fascinating examination of this lively and constantly evolving discipline

Politics and Kinship Erdmute Alber, Tatjana Thelen, 2021-12-15 Politics and Kinship A Reader offers a unique overview of the entanglement of these two categories in both theoretical debates and everyday practices The two despite many challenges are often thought to have become separated during the process of modernisation Tracing how this notion of separation becomes idealised and translated into various contexts this book sheds light on its epistemological limitations Combining otherwise distinct lines of discussion within political anthropology and kinship studies the selection of texts covers a broad range of intersecting topics that range from military strategy DNA testing and child fostering to practices of kinning the state

Beginning with the study of politics the first part of this volume looks at how its separation from kinship came to be considered a modern phenomenon with significant consequences The second part starts from kinship showing how it was made into a separate and apolitical field an idea that would soon travel and be translated globally into policies The third part turns to reproductions through various transmissions and future making projects Overall the volume offers a fundamental critique of the epistemological separation of politics and kinship and its shortcomings for teaching and research Featuring contributions from a broad range of regional temporal and theoretical backgrounds it allows for critical engagement with knowledge production about the entanglement of politics and kinship The different traditions and contemporary approaches represented make this book an essential resource for researchers instructors and students of anthropology Crossing Histories and Ethnographies Ricardo Roque, Elizabeth G. Traube, 2019-06-20 The key question for many anthropologists and historians today is not whether to cross the boundary between their disciplines but whether the idea of a disciplinary boundary should be sustained Reinterpreting the dynamic interplay between archive and field these essays propose a method for mutually productive crossings between historical and ethnographic research It engages critically with the colonial pasts of indigenous societies and examines how fieldwork and archival studies together lead to fruitful insights into the making of different colonial historicities Timor Leste s unusually long and in some ways unique colonial history is explored as a compelling case for these crossings Precedence Michael P. Vischer, 2009-05-01 This collection of papers is the sixth volume in the Comparative Austronesian series The papers that comprise this volume examine the concept of precedence as a form of local discourse and as a mechanism for ordering status at different levels within specific Austronesian speaking societies This is the first volume of its kind to focus entirely on precedence and to provide an explication of its social uses and the way in which it is contested Each paper is ethnographically focused and offers its own distinctive approach to the examination of precedence The papers however relate closely to one another and are thus able to proffer a variety of comparative reflections Headhunting and the Social Imagination in Southeast Asia Jules de Raedt, Janet Hoskins, 1996 This book brings together material on headhunting from several Southeast Asia societies examines its cultural contexts and relates them to colonial history violence and ritual Vanishing Beauty Madhuvanti Ghose, 2016-01-01 This book commemorates the remarkable gift of over 400 works from the collection of Barbara and David Kipper to the Art Institute of Chicago These outstanding pieces of jewelry and ritual objects offer a material record of vanishing ways of life Used as portable forms of wealth as personal adornment and in religious practice they represent a broad spectrum of cultures The majority comes from the Himalayan region including Tibet Nepal Bhutan and Mongolia and other pieces hail from Afghanistan China India Indonesia Kazakhstan Pakistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan The catalogue showcases stunning works including delicate amulet boxes other Tibetan Buddhist artifacts and ornate Turkmen jewelry through dramatic photography undertaken specifically for this publication With five essays placing the objects in the contexts of their native

regions Vanishing Beauty offers a beautiful presentation of creativity and craftsmanship from across Asia Travel Writing in an Age of Global Quarantine Gary Fisher, David Robinson, 2021-09-07 Travel Writing in an Age of Global Quarantine is an anthology of travel accounts by a diverse range of writers and academics Challenging conventional academic authority each contributor writes from memory during the Covid 19 lockdown about a place they have previously visited accompanied by an historical traveller who published an account of the same place As immobility is forced upon us at least for the immediate future we have the chance to reflect Travel Writing in an Age of Global Quarantine presents opportunities to approach a text as a scholar differently We break with the traditional academic rules by inserting ourselves into the narrative and foregrounding the personal subjective elements of literary scholarship Each contributor critiques an historical description of a place about which simultaneously they write a personal account View from the Traveller Site Anna Hoare, 2025-04-24 Traveller specific architecture in Ireland and permanently temporary sites in the UK embody an insoluble contradiction as systems of control policing and strategic neglect and as a cultural right an alternative to housing that recognizes the dignity of choice View from the Traveller Site explores post nomadism as an artefact of statecraft in which contradictory processes occur in tandem legal insecurity persists and state policies have unexpected consequences as sites materialize the countervailing tendencies of post war European states At junctures of camps courtrooms sites and council houses Irish Travellers generate new architectures and revive old ones Architecture and the body form distributed fields of analogy and metaphor and are reciprocally constituted as social capacities and sites of personhood and relations Through ethnographic accounts of sites and camps funerary monuments and gift cycles of mares and foals the book reflects on material and performative architectures negotiations of gendered and generational rights and the role of women in encounters between the dead the living and the unborn in camps The author engages with debates in the anthropology of the state property citizenship and the family and offers a new analysis of Travellers concepts of personhood and embodiment as they negotiate the politics and poetics of citizenship kinship and sociality enfolding the settled non Traveller world of sites into the collective bodies of breeds and back breeds This exploration of the productivity of post nomadic architecture culture and sociality will be of particular interest to scholars of anthropology architecture and material and visual culture Culture and Customs of Indonesia Jill Forshee, 2006-09-30 Indonesia comprises more than 17 000 islands stretching on either side of the equator for nearly 4 000 miles and hundreds of ethnic groups with almost 300 languages spoken This book reveals the remarkable social religious and geographical differences that exist from island to island Because of such variety Indonesia defies simple categorizations Europeans have produced most of the written histories of this region although Indonesians have contributed much Culture and Customs of Indonesia reveals something of local people s ideas of their identities and pasts as well Indonesian cultures covered include those of forest dwelling hunters rice growers fisherfolk village artisans urban office and factory workers intellectuals artists wealthy industrialists street vendors and homeless people Readers will learn about the amazing range of belief systems material culture and arts that enliven Indonesia Forshee describes the majestic temples complex poetry and literature lavish theatrical performances and splendid visual arts and more that have distinguished Indonesia for centuries and continue into the present Indonesians are shown to be constantly reinterpreting and refining their cultures in the modern world

Houses in a Landscape Julia A. Hendon, 2010-04-22 An examination of the connections between social identity and social memory using archaeological research on indigenous societies that existed more than one thousand years ago in what is now Honduras

Potent Landscapes Catherine Allerton, 2013-04-10 The Manggarai people of eastern Indonesia believe their land can talk that its appetite demands sacrificial ritual and that its energy can kill as well as nurture They tell their children to avoid certain streams and fields and view unusual environmental events as omens of misfortune Yet far from being preoccupied with the dangers of this animate landscape Manggarai people strive to make places and pathways lively re traveling routes between houses and villages and highlighting the advantages of mobility Through everyday and ritual activities that emphasize liveliness the land gains a further potency the power to evoke memories of birth death and marriage to influence human health and fertility Potent Landscapes is an ethnographic investigation of the power of the landscape and the implications of that power for human needs behavior and emotions Based on two years of fieldwork in rural Flores the book situates Manggarai place making and mobility within the larger contexts of diverse human environment interactions as well as adat revival in postcolonial Indonesia Although it focuses on social life in one region of eastern Indonesia the work engages with broader theoretical discussions of landscape travel materiality cultural politics kinship and animism Written in a clear and accessible style Potent Landscapes will appeal to students and specialists of Southeast Asia as well as to those interested in the comparative anthropological study of place and environment The analysis moves out from rooms and houses in a series of concentric circles outlining at each successive point the broader implications of Manggarai place and path making This gradual expansion of scale allows the work to build a subtle cumulative picture of the potent landscapes within which Manggarai people raise families forge alliances plant crops build houses and engage with local state actors Landscapes are significant the author argues not only as sacred or mythic realms or as contexts for the imposition of colonial space they are also significant as vernacular contexts shaped by daily practices The book analyzes the power of a collective landscape shaped both by the Indonesian state s development policies and by responses to religious change

Encyclopedia of Social and Cultural Anthropology Dr Alan Barnard, Jonathan Spencer, 2002-09-11 This is the only encyclopedia of social and cultural anthropology to cover fully the many important areas of overlap between anthropology and related disciplines This work also covers key terms ideas and people thus eliminating the need to refer to other books for specific definitions or biographies Special features include over 230 substantial entries on every major idea individual and sub discipline of social and cultural anthropology over 100 international contributors a glossary of more than 600 key terms and ideas
